A NOTE FROM OUR DIRECTOR

Hello, April!

Thank goodness, it's finally starting to feel like spring is in the air! I hope you've all been well.

As you may know, April is Child Abuse Prevention Month. One of our goals at CASA is to spread community awareness and inspire thoughtful action to help prevent crimes against children. We've collected a few resources in case you're interested in supplementing your continuing education. I'd like to take a moment to highlight Darkness to Light, as they have a wealth of information on protecting children. Additional resources can be found on the last page.

Kami and I are continuing to gear up for our June Sunset Soirée! If you happen to have some extra time in the next few months, we'd be so grateful for a few extra hands. Additionally, if you know of anyone who may be interested in sponsoring our event, please let us know.

Our intention with this newsletter is for it to be a source of connection and information. This month, we're featuring books, articles, and a TED Talk that all count toward your continuing education. Most of the books we suggest are available at the CASA office. If any of you have suggestions you'd like to add to next month's newsletter, please let Kami or me know:

Kami: kamim@klamathfallscasa.org

Each of you helps make CASA for Children of Klamath County what it is. We could not do this important work without you!
